Welcome to the 52nd Annual FORT MYERS BOAT SHOW. Please take a few minutes to look over the layout. There is a lot of ground to cover. The show stretches along the Caloosahatchee River from Centennial Park on the west end, through the Convention Center and east on Edwards Drive past Lee Street. The Yacht Basin is still closed but there are more boats displayed on land than ever before. Virtually every boat dealer in the area is represented and you will find just about every type of engine, electronics, boat lifts, gear and marine service both inside the Caloosa Sound Convention Center and in outdoor displays.

Be sure to visit our “Know Before You Go” display in the lobby of the Convention Center, an information hub for the show and local boating experts can answer questions about basic boating knowledge, boat safety, and where to go to have fun on the water. There is plenty of food and drink around the show. Take a break and visit the Luminary Hotel or one of the many restaurants and bars only a block away in downtown.

For questions or concerns, ask any security guard or staff member. Our show office is located in the S.W. corner of the convention Center just past the restrooms.

Enjoy the show.

Marine Industries Association Southwest Florida

The Marine Industries Association of Southwest Florida, established in 1973 as the Southwest Florida Marine Industries Association, has grown in recent years to represent over 275 marine businesses along Florida's West Coast. Our membership includes a wide array of businesses associated with recreational boating and dedicated to the responsible growth and preservation of the boating lifestyle.

The Marine Industries Association plays an active role in governmental and legislative matters throughout the region, working to increase awareness of the economic impact of boating and strengthen the industries political voice. The Association works to grow boating and promote member businesses to the boating public through boat shows, web sites, social media and advertising.

The Association proudly owns and manages the Fort Myers Boat Show, Charlotte County Boat Show, and the Bonita Springs Boat Show.

GO Boating Florida

Know Before You Go

Southwest Florida waterways are unique and often unpredictable. Do not leave the dock until you know federal, state and local laws, rules of navigation, and onboard safety requirements. This guide is a great start, so keep it handy.

Understanding Wake Zones

IDLE SPEED
NO WAKE

Lowest speed required for steering.
Example: The speed you use when docking

SLOW SPEED
MINIMUM WAKE

Settled in the water, not plowing.
Example: A speed that prevents the bow from rising

RESUME NORMAL
SAFE OPERATION

Free to resume a safe speed.
Example: A speed that allows you to proceed on plane

Navigation Aid Symbols

Danger A diamond alerts boaters to hazards like shoals, rocks and wrecks.	Restricted A circle indicates areas where vessel operations are regulated.	Exclusion A diamond with a cross indicates areas where boats are prohibited.	Information A square provides information like directions, distances and locations.
---	--	--	---

Know Navigation Basics

Stay in the channel, but never stop or anchor there! Southwest Florida boaters must rely on channel markers to avoid running into shoals, oyster beds, and other hazards. These aids indicate navigable channels, junctions and forks in a channel, the safest route to navigate around a hazard, and the safe centerline in wide bodies of water.

"Red, right, returning." When entering a channel from the open sea or traveling upstream (returning), keep the red markers on your right (starboard side).

Notice these red markers contain even numbers, which should increase as you proceed inland.

When traveling toward open water (seaward), keep the green markers on your right (starboard side).

The green markers contain odd numbers, which should decrease as you proceed toward open water.

Gulf Intracoastal Waterway (ICW) markers have an additional marking at the top. A small yellow square or triangle at the top of the marker indicates you are in the ICW. When traveling north in the ICW in Southwest Florida, always keep the yellow triangles to starboard and the yellow squares to port — no matter the marker color.

Avoid Running Aground

Tides and shoaling can change our underwater landscape. Keep an eye out for shallow water to avoid running aground.

Focus on the water, not your electronics! Watch for changes in the water color (polarized sunglasses help), birds standing in the water, and surface irregularities like waves breaking where they shouldn't or slick areas in otherwise choppy water.
